

D

ownlow's Rohan Ram sat down with Young Buck to discuss his future.

So, what've you been up to lately?

Young Buck: Just chilling, man

How's your album going?

It's ridiculous- it's done now, wrapped, it's going to be massive. The title speaks for itself, Buck the World, I've got so many features on it, so many producers. I've got Dre, I got Jazze Pha, Hi-Tek, Thee 6 Mafia, Gigolo, lots of hot producers, and lots of features. I've got tracks like the 4 Kings with TI, Young Jeezy, and Pimp C, I got one with Snoop Dogg, with Trick Daddy, I got something with Linkin' Park. I'm gonna do the damn thing, I got a statement to make, and I'm in a position with my music to do that. I'm not playing.

What can we expect?

The same street shit you got with Straight Outta Cashville, but then again, at the end of the day, fans look for the artist to reinvent themselves. I stay the same nigga but add different shit, it's about doing different things, you go get reality on this record, and street shit on this record, and then I do this, that, shit.

Speaking of law trouble, I heard you assaulted a DJ recently. What's with that?

That story got twisted, the story you heard got twisted. There was a situation, but I didn't put my hands on nobody, my entourage didn't- the truth got twisted. They invited me to a big old party in Milwaukee, I came and showed them love and there's nothing on now. DJ War (the DJ in question), he just two-wayed my homeboy, he understands it, he know I ain't put my hands on him, I don't know if he knew he was going to create that shit when he said it, but he knows my shit now. My street report card is all As and Bs, and DJs understand that.

So the stories that you've been banned from airplay are just pure speculation?

Yeah that's all speculation. There was one station... what was it? Hot 97- that station chose to stop playing my records until it was resolved, but now it is resolved. No DJs got a problem right now.

What's up with your beefs with The Game and Cash Money?

There ain't no tension between me and Cash Money; there's no tension between me and Game. No situations; I don't pay none of that shit any attention. I'm straight to the money, you won't find any diss tracks on (Buck the World). It makes no sense to me to get on records and beef, I'ma tell you. But if I don't like a motherfucker, it's the police, they got beef with me, they fuck with me, I don't want to implicate myself as a nigga, but they fuck with me. (At least) I'm not in any legal trouble right now.

So, what are your predictions for Buck the World?

Number one in the country biggest record, crazy response.

How's it going with G-Unit?

They're 130% around. There are never no problems ever, period, you dealing with a real situation with a crew like us, at the end of the day, it's real. It's time for us to get focused.

What's your MO for the next six months?

I plan to promote my album, the best album that I've done.

Any protégés?

Naah, I'm concentrating on C-Bo, working with the Outlawz, and 615. I grew up with (615), they're from my hood. My block. My blood.

How's everything else going?

Everything's cool. My daughter's turning four, she's started crying when I leave, because of her I stay careful in the streets.

"There ain't no tension between me and Cash Money; there's no tension between me and Game. No situations; I don't pay none of that shit any attention. I'm straight to the money, you won't find any diss tracks on (Buck the World).

It makes no sense to me to get on records and beef, I'ma tell you. But if I don't like a motherfucker, it's the police, they got beef with me, they fuck with me, I don't want to implicate myself as a nigga, but they fuck with me. (At least) I'm not in any legal trouble right now."

She's obviously a lot of what motivates you.

For sure, I'm a family type guy, I'm here from the heart. Some of the rappers who deal with it deal with it for cash. I deal with it for the love of the music.

Where do you see yourself in a year?

I see myself really making my statement.

In five years?

I see myself being successful, my company being successful, C-Bo will have two million sold, you'll get two million from me, and two million from my group, 615.

Anything you want everyone to know?

Let them know I'm doing my damn thing. And tell the ladies I'm single.
